

To strengthen our team at the research campus in Stuttgart-Vaihingen we are looking for you as a DESIGN FACTORY - COORDINATOR AND COACH AND COORDINATOR FOR THE INTERNATIONALIZATION OF THE RESEARCH CAMPUS (m/w/d)

WHO WE ARE

ARENA2036 stands for „Active Research Environment for the Next generation of Automobiles“ and is the innovation platform for production and mobility of the future. The research campus is one of a total of nine research campuses resulted out of the funding initiative „Research Campus - Public-Private Partnership for Innovation“ of the the Federal Ministry of Education and Research in Germany. Our mission is to strengthen and secure the technological sovereignty of the business location, especially in automotive production and Industry 4.0. We see ourselves as an innovation platform for future technologies, where high-tech companies drive disruptive technology developments with ecosystem character under one roof. As part of the University of Stuttgart campus, we provide our more than 40 partners with access to excellent know-how and collaboration with leading experts from a wide range of disciplines - from the automotive industry to aerospace technology, textile and materials research, and labor science. As the managing office of the ARENA2036 e.V., we shape the cooperation of our partners and support their projects.

Design Factory Stuttgart is an open learning-by-doing platform at ARENA2036 for industry partners and students to strengthen innovative potential.
